LOOK OUT. Counterfeiters are abroad; look always for the name of COMSTOCK & Co., on the splendid wrappers, and never buy it without

[From the Boston Chronicle, Jan. 10.] Tr. We see by an advertisement in another col-amn, that Messrs. Comstock & Co., the Agents for Oldridge's Balm of Columbia, have deputies to sell that article in Boston and elsewhere. We know a lady of this city, whose bair was so nearly gone, as to expose entirely her phrenological developments, which, considering that they betokened a most anniable disposition, was not, in reality; very unfortunate. Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn, and, after a year's fruitless resort to miscalled restoratives, purchased, some months ago, a bottle or two of Oldridge's Balm, and she has now ringlets in rich profusion, glossy and of raven blackness. We are not puffing none of the commodity has been sent to us, and, indeed, we do not want any, for, though we were obliged to wear a wig a | 5 Brandreth Vegetable Uniyear ago, we have now, through its virtues, hair enough, and of a passable quality of our own.

Daring Fraud.

The Balm of Columbia has been imitated by a notorious counterfeiter. Let it never be purchased or used, unless it have the signature of COM-STOCK & CO. on a splendid wrapper. This is the only external test that will secure the public from deception.

CURATIVE French College of Health, in 1 arks. TIME College of Health, in I aris.

I THE Collowing letter was received yesterday by mail from Sulem. It gives another evidence of the great success of Lorraine's Vegetable Universal Pulls.

Sin I have been for many years a sufferer form the ravages of Scrofilm and Cancerous Humors, which at lest seated on the vitals, and exhibited all the threatening symptoms of consumption. The general inutility of all remedies awakened my an-quiries as to the thousand different methods of cure, most of which I had recourse without receiving benefit. I accidentally noticed a remarkable cure by Lorraine's Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. I sent to Boston and got a box. By the use

J. B. LIGHT. Yours truly, Nov. 20th, 1841.

[From Boston Daily Mail.] Somebody wisely says, that a cap loaded with jewels and flowers will not cure the headeche, nor gold chains prevent the consumption. Louisine's Vegetable Pills have done both.

Family Medicine. Sin I have used Lorraine's Pills in my family as a family medicine, and I would most carnestly ree oramend them to all persons as the that can be procured. THE CONDITION.

The condition upon which nature gives health to man, is a watchful care to keep his state and bowels free from morbid and unhealthy accommis-tions. Lorraine's Pilis admirably effect this, be-cause they cleanse the bowels and purify the blood. Our Pauper System.

Previous to the enlargement of the Alms House during the last year, many of the paupala received aid at their homes, as the accommodations at the Alms House were so limited they could not be admitted to that establishment. And the that were admitted had no suitable apartment for labor, but were herded together, age and infancy, the idiot and maniac, wanton profligacy and innocent poverty, in one promiscuous companionship and association. Subjected to no regular discipline either moral or physieal, but tending downward to the grave of 'morality and the gloominess of perpetual pauperism.

The heavy expenses in maintaining applicants with the abuses which it engendered, and the their respective organization; and the oath of patural associations at the Alms House, caused Dorr as Governor, to Mr. A. Edny, as Lieut. the Mayor in his annual address to present the subject to the City Council, and to ask that an addition might be made to the Alms House, in order to remedy the evils complained of. The case was so strong and so apparent, that the work was entered upon and completed; and connected with the addition, provisions were made for securing and setting at work convicts sentenced to the House of Correction, a portion of the building being fitted for that purpose.

With these improvements, the inmates of the Alms House can be properly classed, and their comfort promoted, and their morals occured. The Oversters the present season, in accordance with the expressed wish of the City Council, have adopted the plan of furnishing supplies only at the Alms House, except in extraordinary cases. The result thus far is, that many families who have drawn more or less of their support from the pauper department, have refused way will be greatly diminished, while at the same time it is believed that a feeling of self-rekened in those who were previously losing confidence in themselves and becoming a prey to the destructive influencee of inertia, and the improvidence encouraged by support being furnished without their effort. Somehow the idea gets into the mind, that the Overseers are the trustees of those they aid, and are legally and morally bound to furnish the supplies. But the present system, while it secures comfort to the aged and infirm, and succour to helpless children, is well calculated to arrest the attention and arouse the energies of those who are suffering themselves, while in health, to sink into the jaws of pau-

The Overseers have employed Mr John Mc-Laughlin as a keeper of the Alms House and House of Correction, and to take charge of the City Farm. He has entered upon his duties with vigor, and has adopted a plan of labor suited to the capacity of the inmates of both establishments. Labor is made a duty, which must not be omitted, and moral influences are applied, so that some hardened offenders who have been from $130 to $330. The Judge was wealthy, confined in the House of Correction have given a preference to the ample leisure of confinement | character. in Jail, in which they have had some experience, to the close labor of the new prison.

So that the necessity of the case is a strong argument in favor of the present system. Railros I Casuality.

Capt. Edmund Badger one of the oldest and most respectable inhabitants of Kellingly, Mass., met with a terrible calamity on Sunday afternoon. As the steamboat train was approaching the railroad crossing in Killingly, he was seen driving a wagon and pair of horses in the direction of the crossing. The engineer gave him timely notice of the cars by ringing the bell, but it was unheard or unheeded, as the horses were driven on the track simultaneously with the engine. The cars were stopped as soon as possible, and the passengers hastened to the spot to ascertain the nature of the accident. A dreadful spectacle presented itself to their eyes. The wagon was broken to atoms, both horses were bleeding to death, and the old man, who had been hurled headlong over a precipice, was lying in a state_of insensibility, a mangled and disfigured body. He was carried to his own house, which was within a dozen rods from the road, and it was not supposed that he would survive the accident. His wife and family were awaiting his arrival at the door when the collision took place.

Of from three to five millions of coin, and fifteen leaving about ninety mullions upon which duties should be assessed. We have then ninety mullions upon which we can assess thirty two imilions annually, which would give about thirty three and a third per-cent. The difficulty nowarises, how shall the duties be assessed? shall it be a horizontal duty of thirty three and one shall we adopt the principle of discrimination and specific duties? From considerable experience The Mechanic Association will meet this in these matters, I have no doubt whatever of the latter. Discrimination was adopted in the first tariff established, and should not, must not Ar The New York Tuttler has increased its now be abandoned. Specific duties are far more safe and convenient, in most cases, than the advalorem system. All practical merchants agree in regard to the utility of specific duties. Our own experience should not be lost upon us. The revenue, I am confident, would be much larger under specific duties, equal to twenty five percent, than ad valorem duties of thirty five per-cent.... The affect of ad-valorem-duties has Hichard Martin, 6 yes been to place the foreign importations of the country in the hands of foreigners; a great proportion of the ad valorem goods imported from Great Britain, are brought to us by British subjents, and nine tenths of all the ad valorem merchandise imported into New York from France, is imported by Frenchmen. No sir, my indignation is excited when I hear it well. Sir, I do not desire to compete with foreign-labor. I hope never to see the time when labor can be obtained at the price it is now in Great Britain. A fair hand-loom weaver obtains but from $1,75 to $2 per week. Tobacco is taken for revenue with a duty from 3 to 800 per cent. And yet they have the assurance in England to write books and pamphlets and to make speeches, and send out reports from the British House of Commons upon the sublimited beauties of Free Trade.
